LOCAL MISCELLANY.

The murder of Miss Hannah M. Brower at Tappar, N. Y., July 13, has been recalled by the arrest of four persons who were suspected of the crime. They were Francis Ver Valeu, Jacob Ver Valeu, Bogart Parsells and Thomas N. Parsells. David Brower, a brother of the dead woman, on Thursday last made an affiliavit stating that he had circumstantial evidence which tended to show that these persons were the perpetrators of the deed. An expersions were the perpetrators of the deed. An expersions of the case was held before Justice-Charles H. Mecker, of Nyack, in the lecture room of the Reformed Church at Tappan, but lattle evidence was produced to show that the Parsells brothers had anything to do with the murder. Distinct Altorney Alonzo Wheeler, of Rockland County, asked that they be discharged, and they were then released from custody. The other two prisoners were held, and the examination will be continued to-morrow. FIVE MONTHS AGO.

were held, and the examination will be continued to-morrow.

The murder was discovered early on the morning of July 13. Miss Bigwer was a woman fifty-thre years old, and lived with her mother, aunt, her brother David and her sixer Sarah, in an old-fassinoned farm-house a mile from the village, and just north of Andre's monument. It is a one-story house with an attic, and Miss Brower slept down stairs while the other members of the family occupied rooms on the floor above. The family occupied rooms on the floor above. The family was not aroused in the night by say outcry, but at 5 a. m. when Sarah went to ber sister's room she found her lying on the floor dead. Her neck was slightly discolored, as if from strangulation, but when a physician arrived he discove ed other marks of violence. It was first supposed to be the work of tramps. An inquest was held, but little light was thrown on the mystery. The ends of a few matches found on the window-sail were the only clew to the ruffians. No trace of footbrinits was discovered. The window curtain was slightly stained by some wet clothes rubbing against it, as the might was stormy and the persons were probably wet from the rain. Mr. Brower said at the inquest that not a dollar's worth of property was taken. He scouted the idea that tramps had committed the deed, and said that he though it was done by persons who were acquainted with the house. Entrance to the house was effected by removing a pane of glass from the window of the room in which the woman siept and then, by taking away a strek which held the window secure. Begart Parsells was one of the winnesses at the Coroner's inquest, but he simply stated that he saw a tail, suspicious looking man on the bridge in front of the mild ashert distance from Brower's house on that night. Two tramps vere arrested on the Palisades the day after the murder, but they were discharged as there was nothing to crimoate them. The Coroner's jury gave a verdict that the victim came to ber death by being strangled by some person or pers murder was discovered early on the morning

ARRIVAL OF OVERDUE STEAMERS.

Several more of the overdue European steamships arrived yesterday, the record of each being a repetition of those of the other steamers which have arrived during the past week. The Bath City from Bristol was due at this port November 27, but did did not reach here until vesterday. She had adverse weather nearly the entire voyage. From latitude 50° north, longitude 34° west, to latitude 44° north, longitude 47° west, she encountered heavy gales with terrific squalls, attended with hail and rain and high seas. More than once it seemed as though the vessel would not rise from the great seas which swept over her. Everything movable was washed from the decks, and life-lines were stretched all over the vessel. No material damare was done to the vessel itself. In latitute 50° 57' north, longitude 10° 12°, an abandoned bark was sighted. Her fore and mainmast were gone at the deck; the mizzen lower mast and the howsprit were standing; the balwarks, both sides of the rail, and a part of the deck cargo were washed away. The hull was black, and the deckhonse and water-casks were painted white.

The French Line steamship Penerre, which was due here Wednesday from Havre, and the North German Lloyd steamship Man, due Friday from Bremen, also arrived yesterday. Both vessels encountered westerly gales and very heavy seas. The following vessels are expected to arrive at any hour: The Volmer, from Antwerp, due November 25; the Victoria, from London, Standard, from West Hartlepool, and Kheola, from Cardiff, due November 26; P. Caland, from Rotterdam, due last Saturday; Faraday, from London, Rulto, from Hull, Freja, from London, due Trairsday; the City of New York, from Liverpool, due Monday; the France and Utopia, from London on the day following the sailing of the Holland, which arrived at this port Saturday inglit. Hence no grave apprehensions are felt yet as to her safety. The steamer Gainare, which recently returned to Washington from the Arctie, also arrived in port yesterday and anchored in the

CHARGED WITH CRUEL TREATMENT.

Overseer of the Poor Parker Teed, of the Livingstone, Essex County, N. J., Poorhouse, and Homer Burnett, a farmer of Livingstone, went to Newark Saturday to receive a colored boy, age nitely years, named Wesley Wells, who had been bound out to Burnett by the Poormaster, and who was taken away Thanksgiving Day by his brother. The boy was found living with his marnet stater at No. 43 Nicholson-st., who refused to give him up. The case was then taken before Pohice Justice Ricord. The boy's relatives stated to the Justice that Wesley had come to them wretchedly clad and haif starved, and that he had been inhumanly treated. The boy himself made a statement to the effect that he had been insufficiently clothed and fed; that he was compelled to get up before daylight, and to work in the open are at all kinds of labor; that he never was sent to school, and frequently was beaten with sticks. He wore common overalls, a thin, ragged first and a wern-out coat. He wore no stockings, he said, and his feet were protected only by a pair of old gum boots; and frequently he had only a crust for his meal. The farmer claimed that Wesley was well clothed and fed, and had been sent to school regularly. The boy's sister stated to the Justice that another brother, George, age fourteen, is an inmate of the Livingstone Poorhouse; that sometime age be was allowed to go to Newark to spread the sound in the matter until to-day.

NOTORIOUS BURGLARS ARRESTED.

At a notorious resort on the West Side Captain Brogan and Detective Crowley, of the Mercer Street Station, arrested William Farley, alias "Shang" Morris, and John Smith, alias Whitey, yesterday morning, for breaking into the tailor shop of Robert T. Wild, No. 68 South WashingtonsSquare, Saturday morning. Mr. Wild, who was sleeping in the store, was aroused by the noise, and obtained a good look at them before they discovered his presence. As soon as they saw Mr. Wild they made their estape. Mr. Wild at once sent word to the police, ile fully identified the prisoners, when they were taken before Justice Smith, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, as the men who broke into his store, and the Justice held the accused men for trial, fixing bail at $1,000 each. Both men have been arrested before. Farley was sentenced to imprisonment for five years for burglary, but, with several other convicts, he escaped from Sing Sing Prison, and, stealing a locomotive of the Hudson River Bailroad, fired up and attempted to run down to the city. The men, however, failed to escape. Farley was subsequently recaptured and served out his term of innersonment.

ALARM AT THE HUDSON RIVER TUNNEL. A LEAK THAT WAS STOPPED IN TIME-EXCITEMENT AMONG THE WORKMEN.,

Among the workmen.

A report was circulated in Jersey City at 1 o'clock yesterday morning that the Hudson River Kaliroad Tunnel at the feet of Fifteenth-st. in that city had been the scene of an accident shallar to the one that occurred in the tunnel nearly six months ago, and that Superintendent Anderson and about thirty of his workmen had been imprisoned in the tunnel and drowned. The report caused much excitement throughout that portion of Jersey City. A reporter of The Tribune investigated the truth of the rumor, and soon learned that it was false. Shortly after the morning shift of workmen entered the tunnel yesterday the compressed air began to hiss in one side of the main tunnel, showing that there was a slight leak at that point. The workmen were much alarmed, and made a rush for the old air-lock that opened into the working shaft. One of them was tripped up by a companion, and in failing sprained his arm. No damage was caused by the leak and the men returned to work after it had been stopped up by the foreman in charge of the gang. This was the only foundation for the report of a terrible disaster at the tunnel.

A COLD WAVE APPROACHING.

A COLD WAVE APPROACHING.

The rain yesterday was acceptable to two classes, and would bave been more acceptable had it continued to pour hard during the twenty-lour hours. The streets were partially relieved of the slimy mind which has covered them for the last week, thus renewing the Street Cleaning Department of a great deal of work which was on its hands, and making them more passable to foot travellers. There is, however, a large quantity of filth left in the streets which did not make its way to the sewers. The rain began at 1:45 a.m. and during the day the fall amounted to 95;00 of an men. For two or three hours during the middle of the day it rained in torrents at intervals, and much reuse matter was carried into the sewers. Shortly after noon it settled into a drizzling rain, and at sundown there was a dense fog, which prevailed intil after midnight. One could hear the clanging of belis, the shrieks of whistles, and the blowing of fog-horns, on vessels under way and at anchor.

blowing of fog-horns, on vessels under way and at anchor.

It ramed also at Boston, Burlington, Vt., New-London, Conn., and Portland, Me. There was snow in Michigan. In other parts of the country the weather was fair, but the signs were not very favorable. Storm signals were ordered at this station in the morning, and off-shore signals were ordered at Barnegai, Atlantic City, Cape May, Delaware Breakwater and Chineoteague. In New-England the mercury ranged high, but in the West there had been a great tail in the temperature, indicating that a cold wave is approaching which probably would be in this longitude in a day or two. The wind was generally from the west, it being from the east, however, along the New-England coast. A heavy gale was blowing at Chevenne, Milwankee, Port Huron, Sandusky and Buffaio. There was a slight rise in the temperature along the Atlantic coast, but in the Northwest, during the previous twenty-four hours, there had been a fall of 380 at Fort Leavenworth, 280 at La Crosse, 260 at Madison, Wis., 240 at Cheage, and 200 at Cairo and Omaha. The temperature was the lowest at the last named city, where the mercury indicated 70 above zero. In Wisconsin the mercury stood from 80 to 120 above zero.

VESSELS AT THE NAVY YARD. The United States training-slap Minnesota, which recently arrived from the naval inspection of the North Atlantic Squadron at Hampton Roads, is to go into winter quarters at the Brooklyn Navy the North Atlantic Squadron at Hampton Roads, is to go into winter quarters at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. At present she is myored at the cob dock, where she will remain until her berth at the wharf, near the paymaster's stores, is dredged of the large bank of mud which has formed. The forward part of the spar-deck of the ship is being housed over, and the winter instruction of the boys will be continued as heretofore. The engineer's class will receive practical instruction in the construction and repairing of engines and boilers, under the supervision of the engineer instructus in the shops of the Navy Yard. At present the care 364 boys on the Minneadta, of whom seventy-live will be transferred to the training-ship Portsmouth this week, thus making about 130 vacancies in the complement. These vacancies will be filled during the winter from the number of the applicants.

Captain Luce is at present absent with Commodore English, Captain Chandler and Leutenant Chadwick, the commission appointed to examine the proposed sites for a training station on the New-England coast. It is suggested that as the Minnesota is to be continued as the recruiting ship for boys, and as past experience has proved that New-York is the best centre for the enlistment of boys, the vessel should remain here rather than be sent to New-London, as was the case last winter. It was said that New-London proved unhealthy for the ship's crew, and that enlisting repairs preparatory to a winter's cruise in the West Indies, and will be ready another of the vessels which came north after in naval review, is receiving repairs preparatory to a winter's cruise in the West Iodies, and will be ready for sea in about three weeks. Only a few men are employed in repairing the Brooklyn, which has been in dry-dock for several months. She has been nearly rebuilt, and doubtless will be equal to a new vessel when completed. She is now using caniked, and will be ready to leave the dock in a few weeks.
